DEDICATION

We wish to express admiration and appreciation on the excellent service Mrs. Teichert has rendered to the Cokeville Schools during the past seventeen years. The Ram Staff deeply appreciates the excellent work shown in the beautiful design for the cover of this book. We wish you the best of luck -- Always.

DEDICATION

We have tried our best to make the quality comparable to the person to which this annual is dedicated. The School Board, Superintendent, Faculty, Student Body and Ram Staff congratulate you, Mr. Carpenter, on your excellent record in the Cokeville High School and especially in the field of commerce. The staff appreciates the close, personal relationship that you have shown to us in this work. We honor and respect your knowledge of this subject and your method of imparting this knowledge to us.

HISTORY

On September 11, 1950, nine members of the Freshman Class stood in line to get tickets on the flying saucer, "C.H.S." When everyone was aboard, we elected a captain for that year. He was Dee Wilde. It was smooth sailing until we came to Freshman Initiation. After getting control of our Saucer again we had our Freshman Dance.

We stopped long enough to reload passengers in '51 and Myles Miller got on. As we flew low to get a better look at the layout, Darlene Teuscher and Irene Hillier parachuted out, but Evelyn Jolley and Ruth Perkins took their seats. We flew over an army camp and Frank Pope got out there.

Our captain for this year was Ruth Perkins and the theme of our dance was "Winter Wonderland". We put on a one act play for an assembly--"Make Room for Rodney" It was pretty good; we thought so anyway.

Shirlee Petersen led us through our "mighty Junior" year. Evelyn and Ruth got off, but Ruth said to save her seat because she would be back. We thought for sure we were going to "crack up" this time, but after we passed the danger we saw that it was only the Junior Prom. Our theme was "Stardust" with Jimmy Martinez and Beverle Zierlein reigning as king and queen.

Our play was "A Little Honey" which went over with a big laugh. We enjoyed putting it on as much as the audience enjoyed watching it.

The "C.H.A. is slowing down now as we're nearing the end of our journey. As captain for the last lap, we chose Beverle Zierlein. We were rejoined by Ruth and started off again.

Our Senior Dance was really something different. It went over with a big "bang", literally I mean. Our play was "Fog Island"; a thriller-diller mystery that kept everyone in suspense up to the last curtain.

On May 16, 1953 the "C.H.A." came to a complete halt and the 11 members filed out. All agreed, while discussing the journey, that it had really been enjoyable and a special thanks to all of the pilots and stewardess' who helped us along the way.

WILL

We are gathered here this fine day in May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventy five, not to reminisce and recall the happiest years of our lives, but to read the will that the class of 1953 lost. It became known as the great loss mystery and, as you know, this will was found last month in the ruins of the old Cokeville High School.

Now I take great pleasure in presenting that great paragon of justice, that master mind of zoological sciences, the one and only James R. Carpenter.

"It is a pleasure for me to read the class will of '53. I knew them well and I remember that great cellophane and balloon dance that has not been surpassed to this day. Again, I say, I accept with pleasure the reading of this will.

Beverle Zierlein, it says here, wills her income tax figure, literally that is, to that keen little Jack Noblitt, who will open an office here this summer.

Dee Wilde wants to be sure that he wills a nice little calf to Billie Faye Wright. He also wants her to have some special hay for this precious calf.

It says here that Grace Morris, who finally defeated Myles Miller for the typewriting championship of the school, would like to will this modern typewriter to Doris Wilde with the hope that she can achieve the same honor that Grace did while beating the pestering Myles for the record.

And now here is our great athlete Jimmy Martinez. Just look what he wills. During the long wintery nights when he was tending sheep on the barren desert, he made a beautiful spinning wheel for his gorgeous Daisy Mae. We know that Daisy will weave the threads of her life around Jimmy.

This next person seemed somewhat alarmed about spinsterhood and the good class gave her $100.00 to will to some prospect and, as they say in law, hold him by option or by breach of promise. So Lynne Wilde willed her $100.00 to that good-looking prospect Lavoy Taylor, with the understanding that there would be a Mrs. on her tombstone.

It is further stated that Cem Mackey had left for safe keeping, this finely built hope chest for his "light of love", to Roberta Zierlein.

And now we have this gorgeous painting by a former member of the class, Miss Lorrene De La Rem Brandt Tayloretta, the great artist, wills this collectors item to Stanley Thompson in hopes that he hangs it in his living room so that he can feast his eyes on the works of the great artist, Miss Tayloretta.

And look what we have here--a bicycle made with wheels of cheese. Ruth Perkins wills a ride on her bicycle made in that great land of cheese, Star Valley, to Kay Marsha Roberts.

Myles Miller, the Fish Haven dancer, the answer to a fair maidens prayer, felt guilty so he willed some sandwiches and a chocolate bar to the owners of the lockers where he filched his daily snacks. Now here is a bag of sandwiches for Clyde O'Neill, who we feel will carry on the great Miller tradition and a chocolate bar for Flash and Sharon.

WILL

Next in line on the will is Shirlee Petersen, who we know now as Mrs. Deromedis. I must stop here a second to think back to the days of Shirlee's birthday parties. Those card games brought forth such thrilling excitement that Shirlee finally found it necessary to issue reserved seats ONLY. She wills this famous and thrilling deck of cards to that curvaceous and beautiful, Afton Buckley.

And I believe that this is the last codicil in this precious document. Janet Nebeker, I should say Mrs. Buckley, bequeaths to Carol Dayton this silk rope that she used to finally encircle Joe Buckley and lead him down the isle.

In witness thereof, I have set my hand and seal this eighteenth day of May in the year of our Lord, one thousand nineteen hundred and fifty-three."

PROPHECY

It was a lovely spring day, May 9, 1968, when our retired annual advisor, Mr. Carpenter, sat admiring his new invention, the $90,000 Cosmo-Visio-Relativity Radar Screen, complete with Saucer Beam and Jet Cups. With this wonder machine he was going to make the class prophecy of 1953 an actual reality.

He dialed the amazing machine to show a view of palm trees and the ocean slapping upon a sandy beach.

Suddenly Jimmy Martinez appears by gravautational force from the beach of Wack-Acki in Honolulu. Poor Jim lost his leg saving a hulu dancer from a shark but he figured there wasn't a woman worth two legs, so unfortunately, his wife Gwen, lost her life--due to a shark. Griefstricken, he took the position of official grass skirt inspector.

The next Saucer Beam shows Beverle Zierlein seated in her office at General Motors where she is top tax accountant. Strange, but true, she is the only old maid in the class, but she is more interested in her work than men, especially at the rate of $25.00 an hour.

As the Beam travels along, it shows the dark walls of Alcatraz where Cem Mackey is permanently stationed for the tragedy that befell him when he shot and killed his poor wife, Roberta Zierlein, just because she locked him in the cellar when she was tailoring bathing suits on a couple of beauty models.

There is a slight interference on the screen when the Beam hit a jet airline, to show Lynne Wilde Holmes as chief hostess of the American Air Lines. She finally married Billy Jay in 1964 and a year later presented him with triplets; Bill, Jay, and Portia.

The Beam changed again to show a very sad scene, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dunn of Montpelier, Idaho where the last remains of Myles Miller rests at the home of his dear wife's parents. It seems this unfortunate incident was caused by can opener poisoning.

After considerable pause, the scene changes to show a gigantic cheese factory at Star Valley, owned and managed by the former Ruth Perkins. She married Roy Hink and they cornered the cheese industry during the depression of 1967. This was shortly before Roy died under very mysterious circumstances.

PROPHECY

Mr. Carpenter is dazzled by the brilliancy of all the lights in the next scene. Shirlee Petersen, the great dramatic star who won her Academy Award for her performance in "Moon Over Wyoming", is coming out of a theatre with hundreds of fans on all sides. She married Joe Deromedis, but was more distressed over the suicide clause in his insurance policy than the loss of a husband when he shot himself a few months later.

He turns the dial again and sees Janet and Joe Buckley with their two year old race horse. They named him Norman J. LaMar after Janet's two Senior Class Advisors. They are hoping he will place first in the Kentucky Derby.

The next scene shows Lorrene Taylor as head of hospital in Salt Lake City. She is really doing wonders in her work there but painting is still her favorite hobby.

Dee Wilde is carrying on the missionary work of his former instructor LaFond Pope in the Alps of Switzerland. The people there are responding very nicely and they are even teaching Dee to yodel. His wife, Dee Ann, and their eleven children don't approve of him practicing in the house though.

We now see Grace Morris, the holder of the World's Typewriting Championship for Royal. She makes $18,000 a year just giving demonstrations with her almost unbelievable typing speed of 173 words a minute.

As the last member faded out, Mr. Carpenter sat back and closed his eyes, thinking of the days they were in school. What a class!!

Athletics

The word "Athletics" is written in a black, ornate Gothic script. The initial letter 'A' is significantly larger and more decorative than the rest of the word, featuring intricate floral and scrollwork flourishes that extend upwards and downwards. The remaining letters 'thletics' are in a smaller, consistent Gothic font. The entire title is centered on a plain white background.
