THE RAMBOUILLET

1954-55

For a quarter of a century of unselfish and untiring effort in the classroom, we dedicate these pages to the senior member of the Cokeville faculties — Mr. Everett Dayton.

When the final record is read, your efforts will stand pronounced; your achievement will stand revealed. The influence of your instruction has always been acknowledged. And in your history class, we might well hear you say — as in the words of Collier:

*Those who come last enter with advantage—.
They are born to the wealth of antiquity —.
The materials for judging are prepared, and the Foundations of knowledge are laid to their hands.*

Message of the Board

America is a land where everyone has a chance, particularly in the field of education. Our public school systems provide opportunities for all children. Neither opportunity or gold will come to him who sits still and wonders and waits. Let him who would move the world, move first himself.

Individual resolution to succeed followed by constructive action prepares one to enter in the front door of everything. One of the primary objectives of true education is the building of character. It is not the result of chance, but of right thinking and action.

Education not only provides opportunity for men and women to become profound scientists, great historians, good mathematicians, authorities in the fields of literature and art, but also seeks to develop men and women with the qualities of truth, honesty, justice, brotherly love, wisdom, benevolence, temperance, virtue and self-mastery. These attributes are the great acquisitions of a successful life.

Chairman

ADMINISTRATION

F. Robert Paulsen
Superintendent of Schools

As one reflects upon past associations, memory recalls from the treasury of the mind the many successes of the year. Any failures are eclipsed by the storehouse of deeds well-done and friendships strengthened. And at this time of year, a re-dedication is appropriate to the eternal verities of youth. Rushkin has said: "Youth is the period of building up in habits and hopes, and faiths. — Not an hour, but is trembling with destinies; not a moment once passed of which the appointed work can ever be done again, or the neglected blow struck on the cold iron."

To remember that eternity is youth — and not to waste it, is a great truth obtained in life. And to find the purpose of life in youth is success without reservation.

CLASS PROPHECY

In the year 1965, Mr. Beecher, who, in the intervening years has become a Yogi, is deep in metaphysical contemplation. His contemplation is interrupted by the entrance of Stanley Thompson.

Stanley is suffering from amnesia brought on by overwork as a four-star admiral. Staggering toward Mr. Beecher he asks for assistance in determining his own identity.

Mr. Beecher gazes into a crystal ball. After studying the crystal ball for some time it is revealed to him that the man standing before him was a member of the graduating class of 1955 of Cokeville High School. Gradually he brings forth the name of the man.

With the mention of Cokeville and the class of 1955 Stanley finds his memory returning and urges the Yogi to search for the other eight members of the class.

Bouncing into view comes the outstanding lady basketball player, Linda Dayton. She is the first woman to play with the Globe Trotters at the Madison Square Gardens, having lately returned from Europe where she toured with them.

The crystal ball now glows with ultra-violet rays and a manly figure of perfect proportions, breath-takingly handsome, appears. It is George Elliott, Mr. America of 1965.

From the surrounding ether, sweet sounds are heard and the voice producing them could be none other than that of Darla Jean Gastenaga, who is now a prima donna with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Faintly at first, then louder and louder, cheers, cheers, cheers. Excited throngs are cheering the championship of a girls' basketball team, made up entirely of Mr. Shaw's daughters. Raymond Petersen is the coach of this team.

The wall in back becomes a movie screen. A mighty Tarzan swings into view. We see that Tarzan is being portrayed by Robert Petersen.

Wonder of wonders! The harem of the Sheik of Arabi! And who is the favorite wife? Patsy Pugmire Palavic.

"It takes a smart man to be a crook, but what a fool he is to be one." But here is Terrell Robinson selling "Test Hill" for uranium mines to suckers in New York.

Doris Wilde, with her alluring curves is staring in the latest CinemaScope, "The Falls of Pine Creek Canyon" reminiscent of Marilyn Monroe in "Niagara."

With the appearance of classmate after classmate, Stanley's memory fully returns. Recovered, he rushes to Mr. Beecher and heartily shakes the hand of the former class advisor of 1955.

CLASS HISTORY

Cokeville High School has never graduated a more outstanding class than the Class of 1955, for real talent, to enumerate, musicians, comedians, athletes, dramatic artists, and vocalists.

In the fall of 1951 our class entered Freshman Valley. The fields were green, the slopes were gentle. We selected Linda Dayton as our guide and she helped us plan and give our dance in "The Little Dutch Mill."

Looking up we found that we were on Sophomore Ridge with Stanley Thompson as our guide. Gazing confidently at the towering slopes, brilliant in their autumn colors, we decided to select "Autumn Serenade" as the theme for our Sophomore dance. We discovered that "It's Cold in Them Tar Hills."

The dangers of the ascent cost us four members. Esther Gittens, Gail Alley, Avenell Teuscher, and Jean Quintana.

In our climb we suddenly came upon a marvelous production Julius Caesar.

Bravely overcoming many obstacles, putting forth great efforts, we arrived safely on Junior Plateau and felt like "Stranger in Paradise." But our brave leader, Patsy Pugmire, soon reassured us and we were ready to meet every challenge.

"If Mother Only Knew" how much we appreciate her wonderful encouragement and faith in us, as well as that of all others who have so kindly and patiently assisted us in our strenuous climb.

Kay Marsha, while climbing bravely, lost her handhold and crashed into an abyss.

One of the most serious obstacles to overcome was our Junior-Senior Banquet, but we really did enjoy it.

Although our finances were quite depleted, we succeeded in putting "Three Coins in the Fountain." This glittering, gorgeous Senior Ball was the first triumph of our final ascent.

Raymond Petersen was guide for the final climb to Senior Heights.

"They Went That Away" propelled us on our ascent. We had several more stops on the way. Senior night, Baccalaureate, and Graduation. At last we have scaled the highest peak. We are graduates.

Sadness envelopes us. We look back at "Dear Old Cokeville High" and find that our hearts, and our ambitions have all been centered around high school activities, and for the moment, we are homesick. But the high ideals that have been set for us will still lead us on, and will be maintained — not neglected.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1955 of Cokeville High School, County of Lincoln, State of Wyoming, being perfectly sound physically and almost mentally, do make, ordain, and declare this to be our last will and testament.

We the Class of 1955, will, without a thought of regret, our art for real talent, to enumerate, musicians, comedians, athletes, dramatic artists, and vocalists to the Junior Class.

- I, Linda Dayton, will my athletic ability to Dee Ann Nate.
- I, George Elliott, will my physique to Richard Taylor.
- I, Darla Gastenaga, will my ability to get good grades out of teachers to June Mumford.
- I, Raymond Petersen, will my little feet to Carla Mackey.
- I, Robert Petersen, will my round trip tickets to Logan to LaRue Beyeler.

I, Patsy Pugmire, will my ability to drive safely to Junior Mumford.

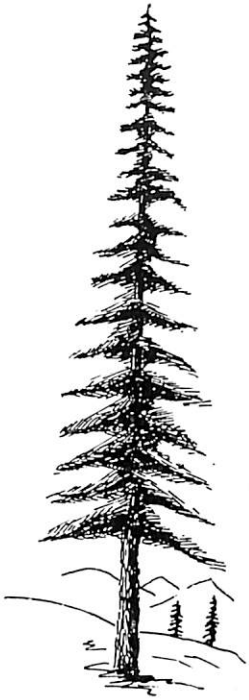

I, Terrell Robinson, will my flirting ability to Glen Walker.

I, Stanley Thompson, will my ability to keep girls on a string in every town to Don Walker.

I, Doris Wilde, will my ego in LaRee Beyeler.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand and seal this 11th day of March, in the year of our Lord One Thousand

- Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-five.

That this Rambouillet may be a storehouse of fond memories is the desire of your Rambouillet staff. Within its covers find your classmates, and by reminiscence, bring back the many, many happy days spent together. For most of you, these memories go back to first grade. At that time, the road ahead appeared long, very long, but, as you look back, the trail has shortened. When these Cokeville school days end, classmates must leave for new fields of endeavor, thus becoming scattered, but you may have a reunion, whenever you wish, in your Rambouillet. May the inspirations and ambitions fostered at Cokeville High find culmination in the useful lives of good citizens. Take, then, this Rambouillet; keep it near you, open it often, renew the old friendships, keep them alive in memory.

The motivating element which leads our girls to become members of the local FHA Chapter is a desire to gain skills in homemaking. Home, a happy home, radiant, because order, good companionship and love predominate, will be an environment in which children will develop into useful citizens.

Each girl, through membership in FHA, will have the opportunity of meeting girls in FHA chapters throughout the state and the nation. These contacts develop self-improvement, leadership and an understanding attitude toward other girls, giving greater meaning to the motto of Future Homemakers of America, "Toward New Horizons."

F.F.A. was founded in November 1928 as a national organization of boys studying vocational agriculture."

The Cokeville chapter was chartered December 9, 1935, being the thirty-sixth chapter in Wyoming. Jack Cochran was president and Ralph Langford vice-president. There were eighteen members. Each year, since the organization of the Cokeville chapter, there has been an active unit of F.F.A. in Cokeville.

So enthusiastic were the Cokeville High boys for a successful 1954 football season, that they reported for practice one week before school opened. It was a fine bunch of boys, sixteen in all. Their morale was high. The practice was strenuous and the hours long, but it all paid. The Panthers won their

Second Place
Trophy

Southwest
District

first game and went on to win three more, losing only two games in the entire season. In the play-off game, October 29, Cokeville versus Hanna, Cokeville scored 20, Hanna 21. The Panthers brought back the Second Place Trophy for football in the Southwest District.

"For when the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name he writes, not that you won or lost, but how you played the game. — Author Unknown.

The basketball season casts a spell. The community unites enthusiastically in support of the team. Throngs attend each game. The gymnasium echoes the cheers. Each member of the team will remember these experiences.

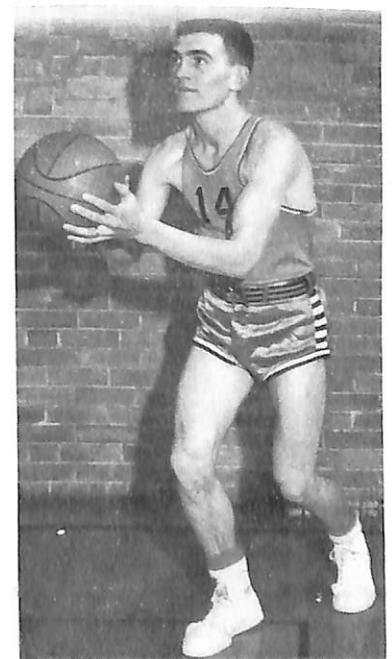

This season the team has had success. In the District Tournament at Green River the Panthers won the Class B District Championship. In December, in an Invitational Tournament between North Rich, South Rich, Kemmerer and Cokeville, the Panthers brought back the First Place Trophy. At the State Tournament at Laramie the Panthers placed third in the state.

Coach Ryan is proud of the boys not only for these successes, but because wherever they have gone on their trips, they have been complimented on their fine sportsmanship and citizenship.

SCHOOL SONG

We're loyal to you, C.H.S.,
 To your colors we're true, C.H.S.
 We'll back you to stand
 As the best in the land,
 With our head, heart, and hand, C.H.S.
 We'll cheer for our dear Cokeville High,
 Her banners will fly to the sky;
 All hail to our Alma Mater,
 To her give praise and honor,
 All hail to our dear old High.
 Fling out that dear old flag and carry it through,
 You've got your sons and daughters fighting for you,
 Your colors fly before us,
 Orange and Black, o'er us,
 Loud rings the chorus.
 Amid the high, old hills surrounding the land,
 For honor, labor and for learning we stand,
 And unto thee we pledge our heart and hand,
 Our Alma Mater, C.H.S.

There were two teams, the Cubs and the Amazons, organized among the girls to play intramural basketball games at noon on Mondays. The girls really enjoyed the sport. The two teams also played one night game.

The purpose of this department is to encourage the girls to have good health habits and sufficient exercise. Democracy and good sportsmanship are also promoted.

SHOP and AGRICULTURE

Farm mechanics is to train individuals to do the unspecialized jobs on the present-day ranch. It is not expected that instruction make specialists of the fellows in carpentry, blacksmithing or welding, but to train them to perform a few necessary skills as efficiently as possible.

ART CLASS

The desire to draw is ageless. To develop this desire into an artistic expression, an understanding of the principles of rhythm, proportion, emphasis and harmony is required. The art class has had a profitable year practicing these requisites as well as studying the history and cultural background of art.

HOME ECONOMICS

The joy of learning to be a good home maker; the joy of being able to plan, prepare and serve delicious and nutritious meals; the joy of creating attractive dresses, is the joy that the girls find in this most idealistic and, at the same time, practical course.

SPEECH CLASS

"As the man, so is his speech."
—Syrus

Speech is the medium through which we converse with our fellow men; communicate our thoughts; sell goods and ideas; inspire others to action.

BAND

"Under the hands of those who comprehend me, I become an eloquent friend. —The more trouble thou takest with me, the more lovely will be the tones with which I shall reward thee."

— Robert Schumann

In band, the students endeavor to win the reward promised by Schumann.

TYPING

In business, speed, accuracy, neatness, spelling, dependability, and efficiency are demanded. The class in typewriting trains our students to achieve high standards in these demands, as well as mechanical skill.

GENERAL SCIENCE

An introduction to each of the sciences is presented to students in a class of general science. Pupils who have had this class will have had the opportunity to decide which of the sciences interests them. Also, they will have a feeling of acquaintance when majoring in the science of their choice.

PHYSICS

The study of physics furnishes the principles and the methods by which our knowledge may be extended, it colors our ways of thinking and of judging, and it provides the talent for operating the complicated mechanics of our lives.

BIOLOGY

Biology includes all that is a study of living things. Its field in the living world, from the simplest little plants and animals up to and including man,

No other science touches our lives so closely and in so many ways as does biology.

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

To be an efficient citizen, knowledge of government procedures is imperative, and Seniors gain this knowledge in the American government class. Because these young people will soon become voters, this splendid class is reserved for them.
